

Re: Race/Sex-Based Learning Opt-Out

Dear Principal,

The relationship between a parent and child is a constitutionally protected liberty interest under the Due Process Clause of the Fourteenth Amendment.⁷ Troxel v. Granville, 530 U.S. 57, 65 (2000); The values of parental direction of the religious upbringing and education of their children in their early and formative years have a high place in our society. ... This primary role of the parents in the upbringing of their children is now established beyond debate as an enduring American tradition. - Wisconsin v. Yoder, 406 U.S. 205 (1972). (Supreme Court cases references)

Per these and other Supreme Court opinions, I do not give the school permission to include or promote the following concepts as part of a course of instruction, in a curriculum, instructional program or to use supplemental instructional materials that include or promote the following concepts with my child, orally or in writing.:

- (1) One (1) race or sex is inherently superior to another race or sex;
- (2) An individual, by virtue of the individual's race or sex, is inherently privileged, racist, sexist, or oppressive, whether consciously or subconsciously;
- (3) An individual should be discriminated against or receive adverse treatment because of the individual's race or sex;
- (4) An individual's moral character is determined by the individual's race or sex;
- (5) An individual, by virtue of the individual's race or sex, bears responsibility for actions committed in the past by other members of the same race or sex;
- (6) An individual should feel discomfort, guilt, anguish, or another form of psychological distress solely because of the individual's race or sex;
- (7) A meritocracy is inherently racist or sexist, or designed by a particular race or sex to oppress members of another race or sex;
- (8) This state or the United States is fundamentally or irredeemably racist or sexist;
- (9) Promoting or advocating the violent overthrow of the United States government;
- (10) Promoting division between, or resentment of, a race, sex, religion, creed, nonviolent political affiliation, social class, or class of people;
- (11) Ascribing character traits, values, moral or ethical codes, privileges, or beliefs to a race or sex, or to an individual because of the individual's race or sex;
- (12) The rule of law does not exist, but instead is a series of power relationships and struggles among racial or other groups;
- (13) All Americans are not created equal and are not endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights, including, life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness; or
- (14) Governments should deny to any person within the government's jurisdiction the equal protection of the law.

I request to be informed, in advance, of any activities that includes the prohibited material listed above.
